

This week we are featuring Robyn Keen.

Robyn is a Scottish singer-songwriter/producer based in Glasgow. Robyn is originally from the Isle of Arran and a lot of the music she writes today is a reflection of growing up here.

In 2020, Robyn completed a course in Music Production at Point Blank Music School in London which has enabled her to record, produce and mix her own tracks from the comfort of her own home during lockdown.

Robyn regularly uploads and shares music videos on YouTube and has more recently licensed her music for use in TV, film, and advertising. She hopes to land her first sync deal soon.
